Dear Hiring Manager,

I am Nicolás, a Software Developer Intern and a Computer Science student from Brazil, expecting to graduate in July 2027. I am writing to apply for the Junior Software Developer position, with a strong interest in contributing to your team in a full-time capacity, where I can leverage my experience in global environments.

Why I can contribute to your team:

- Work Experience: At ADP, I collaborate daily with global teams in English within a fast-paced Agile environment. I help build web applications and microservices using JavaScript, React, Node.js, PostgreSQL, MongoDB. I also have developed automated tests using Playwright for our QA team. I am also familiar with Jira, Bitbucket, Jenkins, database GUIs, SonarQube and Postman.
- Technical Growth: My journey began at Liberato, one of Brazil's top technical schools, where I built a solid foundation in programming logic and Electronics, an experience that gave me the resilience to tackle complex problems. I am currently expanding that base through my personal project "devMatch", using NestJS and AWS to master backend architecture. I manage this project using Github projects and Issues to ensure a professional SDLC, even in solo development. My background also includes projects in Javascript, C and Java focused on OOP and SOLID principles. While I am comfortable across the full stack, my primary interest and focus lie in backend development and system architecture.
- Teamwork and Hobbies: I played volleyball for almost 10 years, which taught me how to support my team under pressure. I also have a passion for music, I play acoustic guitar and I am currently learning the electric guitar, and I want to learn many other instruments. This process of learning a complex skill from scratch keeps my discipline and patience sharp.

About moving to Canada: I deeply identify with Canadian culture and intend to build my career and family life there. While I do not currently hold a visa, I am actively planning to apply for a Work Permit and utilize the Express Entry program to stay long-term.

Thank you for checking my application. I am eager to discuss how my mindset and background can contribute to your team. I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,
Nicolás Daniel Westhäuser
